that same evening, exhausted, because of our long journey (12 hrs by car) of the day before, I went to pray the Rosary, my eyes posed on Fatima's statue, I was on the 4TH mystery when suddenly St. Mary's cape and dress started to become a bright silver, so intense was this silver light that it seemed to come out from within the statue, She seemed to come to life.
This must have lasted not more then 5 seconds.
It was beautiful, because it encouraged me to pray better and made me so very happy!

that same evening, exhausted because of our long journey (12 hrs by car) of the day before, I went to pray the Rosary, my eyes posed on Fatima's statue. I was on the 4th mystery when suddenly St. Mary's cape and dress started to become a bright silver, so intense was this silver light that it seemed to come out from within the statue. She seemed to come to life. This must have lasted not more than 5 seconds. It was beautiful, because it encouraged me to pray better and made me so very happy!
The next day, when I was praying the Rosary again and looking at St Mary's statue of Fatima, I was looking at Her Eyes, I suddenly noticed that the defect (which bothered me) on one of Her Eyes was not there anymore, both Eyes were now perfect. It was a small defect, it must have been paint missing on one of the eyelids, and often I was thinking that I should paint this white line into brown and paint the eyelashes which are missing because of this white line. – Now its not there, and both eyes are perfect ...
